

PHILIPSE MANOR HALLWarburton Avenue and Dock Street, Yonkers

Erected in stages between 1682 and 1758, this brick and fieldstone house is one of the most notable relics of the Dutch colonial era in the country. The house was begun by Frederick Philipse and served as the social and administrative center of his Philipse Manor, or Manor of Philipsburg, which extended 20 miles along the Hudson River. The Manor Hall is open to the public as a state historic site.